SECTION - I

RISK FACTORS AND MANAGEMENT’S PERCEPTION ABOUT THE RISKS

a) Interest rate risks:

Interest rate risk is associated with the fluctuations in market interest rates which cause a company's cost of debt to increase. Changes in the Government's monetary policy also tend to increase interest rates. A high rate of interest may adversely affect the operating results and financial performance of the Company with additional financial charges and squeeze the profit of the company.

Management perception:

Management of Royal Footwear PLC always emphasizes managing its finances to an optimum capital structure of the company so that the cost of capital & debt remains minimal. The management always prefers to take loans with reasonable competitive rates. The company has loans on a fair scale. Hence, the company has fair exposure to interest rate risk.

b) Exchange rate risks:

Foreign exchange risk also known as FX risk of currency is a financial risk that exists when a financial transaction is denominated in a currency other than that of the base currency of the company. This risk arises when an investment's value changes due to changes in the currency exchange rate.

Management perception:

The company receives the entire export proceeds in foreign currency and makes the import payments in foreign currency as well. For a given depreciation of Taka against a particular foreign currency like the US Dollar, the import payment and export proceeds will both be higher in terms of Taka. In case of an appreciation of Taka against the same currency, the opposite will occur. Hence, the company has a natural hedge against exchange rate risk.

c) Industry risks:

Industry risk is related to the factors affecting the company. The factors are the change in supply and demand of the product, changes of laws, government policy to the sector and competitors' rivalry.

Management Perception:

Royal Footwear PLC is aware of the above fact. Industry risk is inherent in any kind of business. At the moment, the industry is favorable for operating businesses.

d) Market and technology-related risks:

Market risk is the risk that any change in the market such as demand for the product, foreign exchange rates fluctuation, prices of the product, increase of competition, a squeeze of business through the cancellation of work order, shifting of the buyer to another market will affect the company's business. The objective of market risk management is to manage and control market risk exposures within acceptable parameters. Technological advancements may render older machinery obsolete, potentially affecting The Company's overall profitability.

Management perception:

The experienced management of Royal Footwear PLC deals with market risk efficiently. The company consistently monitors technological advancements in the industry and promptly adopts them to maintain the highest possible level of operational efficiency.

e) Potential or existing government regulations:

The Company operates under the Companies Act, Taxation policy adopted by NBR, Bangladesh Securities and Exchange Commission (BSEC)'s Rules and the Rules adopted by other regulatory bodies. Any abrupt changes in the policies formed by those bodies will impact the business of The Company adversely.

Management perception:

The economy of Bangladesh has been developing over the decades because of business-friendly Rules and Regulations adopted by the various regulatory bodies of the country. Unless any adverse policies are taken, which may materially affect the industry as a whole, the business of the Company will not be affected. The government emphasizes the growth of the local industry to meet the needs. Our government is encouraging the industry with investment-friendly policy measures.

f) Potential or existing changes in global or national policies:

Changes to existing global or national policies can have positive or negative impacts on the company. Any scarcity, price hike, or global or national policy change may hamper profitability.

Management perception:

Nowadays, global and national policies do not change without prior notice. For potential changes in policies, local and global leaders consider different issues including industry opinion. We are optimistic that if any policies change unpredictably, we can improvise with new policies without hampering our smooth operation.

g) History of Non-Operation, if any:

A history of non-operation suggests poor operational management within the company. Extended non-operation may result in financial losses.

Management perception:

As a manufacturer, the company takes its operations very seriously. They understand that even a single day of operational disruption can impact their supply chain and affect customer satisfaction. Therefore, they prioritize maintaining continuous operations and have never compromised on this commitment throughout their history.

h) Operational Risk

Operational risk is the possibility of suffering a financial setback due to internal procedures, personnel, and system failures or uncontrollable outside factors. Due to a lack of internal controls and compliance within the bank, operational risk can also result from mistakes and fraud.

Management Perception:

By assessing operational risks, the company consistently identifies practical remedial actions to minimize exposures and ensure effective responses. We are also mindful of the potential for financial losses, competitive disadvantages, employee or customer issues, and business failures associated with operational risks.

i) Risk Relating to Secondary Trading of Securities

The Secondary Market offers many opportunities for investing. However, secondary market exhibits a higher risk than the loans that would be seen in the Primary Market. The earnings and return expectations, the risk components of secondary market largely correspond to those of IPO. Secondary markets can have liquidity risks. The liquidity risk recedes if a sufficiently solvent issuer guarantees repayment of the invested capital at any time. Due to the short maturity, the liquidity sensitivity of these instruments is lower than that of bank deposits.

Management Perception:

The Company understands the threat of a liquidity crisis. The company is operating using an effective working capital management strategy, which is essentially focused on the liquidity issue of the company. The company is maintaining the optimum level of liquid assets to avoid any sort of risks raised which may occur during trading in the secondary market. The company is strictly controlling its inflows, outflows, and different uses of liquid funds. Therefore, the risk of the company is lowest.

(v) Competitive conditions in the business;

The Bangladesh footwear industry exhibits a dynamic landscape shaped by fierce competition, evolving consumer preferences, and a drive toward global market penetration. Currently, the industry is dominated by established players like Bata, a multinational company with a long-standing presence in Bangladesh since 1962, and Apex Footwear, a leading domestic manufacturer that controls 15% of the country’s leather footwear exports. Bata’s extensive retail network, comprising 226 outlets nationwide, and Apex Footwear’s strong export orientation highlights the diverse competitive strategies employed within the industry. The presence of international brands like Lotto, which entered the Bangladesh market in 2012, further intensifies competition and exposes local companies to global best practices and trends.

This competitive environment compels businesses to adopt diverse strategies to thrive. Companies are increasingly investing in technological advancements, such as CAD and CAM systems, and automated cutting and assembly machines, to enhance production efficiency and product quality. This focus on technological upgrades is crucial for meeting the demands of discerning consumers in both domestic and international markets. Furthermore, industry players are actively seeking global certifications like the Leather Working Group (LWG) certification to enhance their credibility and gain a competitive edge in the global market. Despite facing challenges such as limited access to finance, inadequate infrastructure, and a shortage of skilled labor, the Bangladesh footwear industry is poised for continued growth, fueled by increasing domestic demand, government support, and a strategic focus on quality, innovation, and global market expansion. The industry is actively addressing environmental sustainability concerns by investing in eco-friendly plants and effluent treatment plants (ETPs) to mitigate the environmental impact of leather processing. These initiatives aim to enhance the industry’s environmental performance and comply with international standards, further strengthening its competitive position.

Inventories were considered as a key audit matter due to the size of the balance and because inventory valuation involves management judgement. Inventory valuation and existence was an audit focus area because of the number of locations/stores that inventory was held at, and the judgement applied in the valuation of inventory to incorporate inventory shrinkage. According to the Company's accounting policy, inventories are measured at the lower of cost or net realizable value. The Company has specific procedures for identifying risk for obsolete items and measuring inventories at the lower cost and net realizable value.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Assessing the compliance of Company's accounting policies over inventory with applicable accounting standards.</li> <li>● Assessing the inventory valuation process and practices. On major locations, we tested the effectiveness of the key controls.</li> <li>● Assessing the analyses made by management with respect to slow moving and obsolete stock.</li> <li>● Attending inventory count on 03 February 2026 and reconciling the count results to the inventory listings to test the completeness of data.</li> <li>● Comparing the net realizable value, obtained through a detailed review of sales after the year-end, to the cost price of a sample of inventories.</li> <li>● Reviewing the historical accuracy of inventory provisioning, and the level of inventory write-offs during the year.</li> <li>● Evaluating the correctness of the valuation of raw materials and packing material as per weighted average method.</li> <li>● Reviewing the calculation of standard labor hours and their regular comparison with actual labor hours of production; and reviewing the process of valuing work-in-progress.</li> </ul>
See note no: 03.03 &amp; 5.00 to the Interim Financial Statements.

3. Property, plant and Equipment (PP&amp;E)
The carrying value of PP&amp;E as at 31 December 2025 was Tk. 793,500,384 which is 49% of total assets. There are a number of areas where management judgment impacts the carrying value of PP&amp;E, and the related depreciation schedule. These include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Determining which costs meet the criteria for capitalization;</li> <li>• The estimation of economic useful lives and residual values assigned to property, plant and equipment.</li> </ul> We identified the carrying value of property, plant and equipment as a key audit matter because of the high level of management judgment involved and because of its significance to the financial statements.	Our audit procedures to assess the carrying value of PP&amp;E included the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Assessing the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of key internal controls over the completeness, existence and accuracy of property, plant and equipment, including the key internal controls over the estimation of useful economic lives and residual values;</li> <li>• Assessing, on a sample basis, with the relevant underlying documentation,</li> <li>• Evaluating management’s estimation of useful economic lives and residual values by considering our knowledge of the business.</li> <li>• We have physically verified the assets on sample basis and their usable condition.</li> </ul>
See note no: 4.00 to the Interim Financial Statements.
4. Legal and regulatory matters
We focused on this area because the Company operates in a legal and regulatory environment that is exposed to significant litigation and similar risks arising from disputes and regulatory proceedings. Such matters are subject to many uncertainties and the outcome may be difficult to predict. These uncertainties inherently affect the amount and timing of potential outflows with respect to the provisions which have been established and other contingent liabilities. Overall, the legal provision represents best estimate for existing legal matters that have a probable and estimable impact on financial position.	We have obtained and understanding, evaluate the design and tested the operational effectiveness of key controls over the legal provisions and contingencies process. We enquired to those charged with governance to obtain their view on the status of all significant litigation and regulatory matters. We enquired internal legal counsel for all significant litigation and regulatory matters and inspected internal notes and reports. We assessed the methodologies on which the provision amounts are based, recalculated the provisions, and tested the completeness and accuracy of the underlying information.

Reporting on Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, other than the financial statements and our auditors' report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If we identify such material inconsistencies of apparent material misstatement, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in respect of these matters.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements and Internal Controls

Management is responsible for the preparation of Interim Financial Statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Interim Financial Statements are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Financial Statements

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We are also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Interim Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Interim Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Interim Financial Statements, including the disclosures, and whether the Interim Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit

Report on other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

In accordance with the Companies Act 1994. We also report the following:

- a) We have obtained all the information and explanations which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purposes of our audit and made verification thereof.
- b) In our opinion, proper books of accounts as required by law have been kept by the company so far as it appeared from our examination of these books; and
- c) The statements of financial position and statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income dealt with by the report agree with the books of accounts.
- d) The expenditure incurred was for the purposes of the organization.

ii. Advance, deposit & prepayments

Advances are initially measured at cost. After initial recognition advances are carried at cost less deductions or adjustments. Deposits are measured at payment value. Prepayments are initially measured at cost. After initial recognition advances are carried at cost less charges to the statement of comprehensive income.

iii. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash in hand and at bank balances.

3.05 Financial Liability

Financial liabilities are recognized initially on the transaction date at which the company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the liability. The company derecognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled or expire. Financial liabilities include payable for expenses, liability for capital expenditure and other current liabilities.

Trade & other payables

Trade and other payable comprise mostly trade payable and bills payable. Trade payable consists of amount payable to various suppliers. Bills payable consists of unpaid bills of suppliers.

Accruals

Accruals are liabilities for various services and operating expenses existing at the reporting date for which the amount of liability can be measured reliably.

3.06 Revenue recognition

The Company recognizes as revenue the amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for good or services when (or as) it transfers control to the customer. To achieve that core principle, this standards establishes a few-step model as follows:

- i) Identify the contract with a customer,
- ii) Identify the performance obligations in the contract,
- iii) Determine the transaction price,
- iv) Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and
- v) Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

Revenue has been recognized in compliance with the requirements of IFRS-15. Upon confirmation of the work order with all specifications, Royal Footwear PLC determines the transaction price considering all fixed and variable factors. As per IFRS-15, revenue from the sale of goods is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, net of cancelled services. Revenue from goods rendered is generally recognized in the income statement when the relevant goods are completed, usually when the report of delivery or the Bill of Lading, or the Bill of EXPO is issued.

3.07 Grant received

Grant income should be recognized when there is reasonable assurance that the organization will comply with the conditions attached to the grant and the funds will be received. Ensure that recognition and measurement align with the principles outlined in IAS 20.

3.08 Foreign currency transaction

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Bangladesh Taka (BDT) at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the respective transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the reporting date. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated using the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction.

As foreign currency transactions are recorded on a real-time basis and exchange differences are assessed to be immaterial, any minor exchange differences arising in the ordinary course of business are adjusted directly against the related purchase and revenue accounts. Accordingly, no material foreign exchange gain or loss is separately recognized or presented in the financial statements.

3.09 Taxation

The calculation of the existing income tax obligation relies on the tax legislation that was enacted or essentially enacted by the date of the balance sheet. The management conducts periodic assessments of the stances assumed in tax returns concerning circumstances where relevant tax regulations can be open to interpretation. When necessary, it creates provisions based on the expected payments to be made to tax authorities.

3.10 Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is calculated using the carrying amount and tax base of assets and liabilities. Deferred tax arises due to temporary difference deductible or taxable for the events or transactions recognized in the comprehensive income statement. A temporary difference is the difference between the tax bases of an asset or liability and its carrying amount/reported amount in the statement of financial position. Deferred tax asset or liability is the amount of income tax recoverable or payable in future periods recognized in the current period. The deferred tax asset/income or liability/expense does not create a legal recoverability/liability to and from the income tax authority. Deferred tax also arises due to revaluation of property, plant and equipment. The resulting impact of deferred tax assets/liabilities on revaluation surplus is included in the Statement of Profit or Loss and Other Comprehensive Income.

3.11 Employees Benefit Plans*Workers Participation Fund and Welfare Fund

The company routinely designates 5% of the net profit before tax to this fund, as dictated by the stipulations outlined in the Bangladesh Labour Act, 2006 (amended up to 2025) Under this act, the fund is distributed into three categories: the Employee Welfare Fund, the Bangladesh Workers Welfare Foundation, and the Workers Participation Fund, in the proportions of 10%, 10%, and 80%, respectively.

The Company has not been able to complete the registration of the Workers' Profit Participation Fund (WPPF) as required under the Labour Law. However, the management has assured that the WPPF registration will be completed and the fund will be distributed among the workers in accordance with the provisions of the Labour Law.

3.12 Earnings per share

This has been calculated in compliance with the requirements of IAS-33 "Earnings Per Share" by dividing the basic earnings by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year.

Basic earnings

This represents earnings for the period attributable to ordinary shareholders. As there is no preference share dividend, minority interest or extra ordinary items, the net profit after tax for the year has been considered as fully attributable to the ordinary shareholders.

3.13 Related Party Disclosures

As per International Accounting Standards IAS-24: 'Related Party Disclosures', parties are considered to be related if one of the parties has the ability to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. The Company carried out transactions in the ordinary course of business on an arm's length basis at commercial rates with its related parties.

3.14 Date of authorization for issue

These financial statements were authorized for issue by the Management of the company on 10 March 2026.

3.15 Cash Incentive from Export

The company has recognized the export cash incentive upon receipt of the incentive from the government authority through the banking channel. The receipt will be confirmed by a bank certificate.

The Accounts Receivable Turnover Ratio of 12.50 in 2025 is exceptionally strong compared to the industry's 2.81, highlighting RFL's superior ability to collect payments quickly and manage credit terms effectively. The Asset Turnover Ratio of 0.90 in 2025 also exceeds the industry's 0.55, proving that RFL generates more revenue from every unit of asset employed. Even though the Inventory Turnover Ratio moderated to 1.50 in 2025, this follows a remarkable 10.49 in 2022 and reflects strategic inventory positioning rather than inefficiency. Overall, RFL leads the industry in asset utilization and receivables efficiency.

3. Profitability Ratios

RFL has built a resilient and balanced profitability profile, with several encouraging strengths. In 2025, RFL's Operating Profit Ratio of 9.23% surpassed the industry's 8.70%, demonstrating strong control over operating expenses and core business efficiency. Return on Assets (ROA) of 5.27% also exceeded the industry's 4.03%, proving that RFL generates superior returns from its asset base. While the Gross Margin of 12.74% trailed the industry's 18.85%, RFL has maintained stable margins over five years, reflecting consistency. Earnings Per Share (EPS) of 1.59 remained close to the industry's 1.69, and the company has delivered positive EPS every single year—a testament to its enduring profitability even in challenging market conditions.

4. Solvency Ratios

RFL has managed debt exceptionally well, maintaining a conservative and prudent leverage profile that enhances long-term financial stability. In 2025, RFL's Debt to Total Assets Ratio of 0.40 was significantly lower than the industry's 0.61, and its Debt to Equity Ratio of 0.77 was less than half of the industry's 1.72, indicating that RFL relies far less on risky debt financing than its peers. The Times Interest Earned Ratio of 2.85 exceeded the industry's 1.78, showing that RFL comfortably covers its interest obligations with operating profits. This disciplined approach to leverage positions RFL as a low-risk, financially secure company with ample capacity to weather economic uncertainties.

5. Cash Flow Ratios

RFL has achieved a remarkable turnaround in cash flow generation, emerging as a cash flow leader in 2025. Net Operating Cash Flow Per Share (NOCFPS) for RFL reached 4.12, far surpassing the industry's 0.85—a dramatic improvement from previous years and a clear sign of strengthening operational efficiency. Even more impressive, the NOCFPS to EPS Ratio of 2.59 exceeded the industry's 0.60, meaning RFL generates more than two and a half times its reported earnings in actual cash. This indicates exceptionally high-quality, non-volatile earnings and a robust ability to fund growth, reduce debt, or pay dividends from internal cash flows. RFL has transformed cash flow from a past challenge into a distinct competitive advantage.

6. Conclusion

RFL presents a compelling story of financial discipline, operational excellence, and improving fundamentals. The company leads the industry in receivables turnover, asset turnover, operating profit ratio, return on assets, and—most notably—operating cash flow generation. Its conservative debt management provides a strong buffer against economic downturns, while consistent profitability and positive EPS every year reflect resilience. Although liquidity ratios trail industry averages, RFL has shown steady improvement, and its cash-rich operations in 2025 more than compensate. With continued focus on optimizing inventory and gross margins, RFL is well-positioned to sustain its upward trajectory and deliver long-term value to stakeholders.
